IDAHO GENERAL MINES CONTINUES TO ADD KEY PERSONNEL TO NEVADA TEAM

LAKEWOOD, COLORADO – October 8, 2007, Idaho General Mines (AMEX:GMO) announced the appointment of Brent Chamberlin as Director of Human Resources and Zach Spencer as Manager of External Communications. Mr. Chamberlin joins the Company after working for Queenstake Resources and its predecessors for sixteen years as the Human Resources and Safety Manager. Brent has nearly 30 years experience in the mining industry, including extensive experience in Nevada, at positions in human resources, safety, public relations and government relations.

Mr. Spencer most recently spent three years as the Senior External Relations Representative at Newmont Mining where he conducted communications and media relations. Zach has more than 20 years experience in the communications field and serves as chair of the Public Outreach Committee for the Nevada Mining Association and as co-chair of the Elko Mining Expo.

Bruce D. Hansen, Chief Executive Officer, said, “Successfully bringing Mt. Hope to production requires the right employees as well as good community and government relations. Both Brent and Zach are extremely experienced in their respective fields and will make significant contributions to our efforts in Nevada as we move forward. I am very pleased to have them on our team.”

Idaho General Mines is a U.S. based molybdenum mineral development, exploration and mining company listed on the American Stock Exchange under the symbol GMO. Beginning October 9, 2007, the Company will change its name to General Moly Inc. Our primary asset, the Mt. Hope project located in central Nevada, is considered one of the world’s largest and highest grade molybdenum deposits. Combined with our second molybdenum property, the Hall-Tonopah project which is also located in central Nevada, our goal is to become the largest primary molybdenum producer by the middle of the next decade.
